

Christina Aguilera, Twice

sometimes I wonder what is the meaning of this life I found the price of love and lost my mind
I will forgive them all of my wrongs and my rights I'd do it all again and won't think twice och, think twice

are you devil, are you angel?
am I heaven, am I hell?
I can barely find the proof to save myself are you filthy, are you pure? och, I thought by now I'd know but I'm not sure well, you're no angel

I never asked you to be you're my danger cause that's what I need but it still hurts me

well, sometimes I wonder what is the meaning of my life I found the price of love and lost my mind
I'd do it all again and won't think twice
och, think twice

my forever and my end my forgiveness and my sin I have sacrificed the most of my youth is it treason, is it true? that the worst I won't undo only enemy I have in love is you

well, you're no angel
I never asked you to be
you're my danger cause that's what I need
but it still hurts me

well, sometimes I wonder what is the meaning of my life
I found the price of love and lost my mind
I will forgive them all of my wrongs and my rights
I'd do it all again and won't think twice
och, think twice

are you devil, are you angel?
it's too late to change my mind I would do it all again and not think twice
