Christina Aguilera, We Remain

Now we talk about our wasted future But we take a good look around Yeah, we take a good look around Yeah, we know it hasn't been for nothing 'Cause we'll never let it slow us down No, we'll never let it slow us down Every single time the wind blows Every single time the wind blows I see it in your face And in a cold night, there will be no fair fights There will be no good night to turn and walk away To burn me with fire, drown me with rain I'm gonna wake up screaming your name Yes, I'm a sinner Yes, I'm a saint Whatever happens here Whatever happens here We remain
