

Christina Milian, Until I Get Over You

Woke up today thinking of you
Another night that I made my way through
So many dreams still left in my mind
But they can never come true, yeah
I press rewind and remember when
I close my eyes and I'm with you again
But in the end I can still feel the pain
Everytime I hear your name
The sun won't shine since you went away
Seems like the rain's fallin' everyday
There's just one heart where there once was two
But that's the way it's gotta be
