

Christine Guldbrandsen, Fly Away

I'm walking
In the mist
All blinded by these tears
Can't see you
Can't hear
Still feel your presence, are you near

I wonder
Can you hear
Me whispering these words
I love you, miss you so
Why did you have to leave me now

Fly away now
Fly away to a place
Where the clouds are few
You had to leave me
For a better place
Still wish I could
Have kissed you and said goodbye

You gave me
All your love
I think of you and smile
The stories we made
Are precious gifts, will never fade

Someday we'll meet again
We'll fly above the night
Until my time is here
You'll watch my step
I have no fear

Fly away now
Fly away to a place
Where the clouds are few
You had to leave me
For a better place
Still wish I could
Have kissed you and said goodbye

Fly away now
Fly away to a place
Where the clouds are few
You had to leave me
For a better place
Still wish I could
Have kissed you and said goodbye

You had to leave me
For a better place
Still wish I could
