

Cinder, Eden Slave

Id like to believe we could judge ourselves.
Be free from your contradictions and your waste of time.
Would you pray, or would you want to.
A life that swings on a matter of faith.
I dont pray, cos I dont need to be your slave.
Take heed of dictators on a mount with vengeful strings.
Give praise to the puppet master as he hands out wings.