

Cinderella Effect, Creature Of Masquerade

Creature of masquerade
(Jaw. Lyrics by Pascal Finkenauer)

lay down your face
the feigned caricature
train me in burning these contorted faces down
she screamed
here I am
and laughed in her costume
now
paint me a portrait of protective mimicry

you didn't notice me at all
I had to change
to form myself
create a creature of
masquerade

like a body of clay that sways in revolutions worked by hands -
worked by hands
he screamed
I devote
and laughed uniformed
paint a portrait
of
another cheated clone

you didn't notice me at all
I had to change
to form myself

expose
uncover
create
