

Cinema Bizarre, Crashing and Burning

You, haven't got a pain
What you think you need to say
And I, I, already know
You played a part in a stupid show

And you're wondering, how I..m wandering
Through the maze between the heartaches

Crashing and burning
As time past away
Trashing and turning
You know that I feel
The chances are low but the curtain is down
Now it's turning down

The curtain's down

You better stop
All your acting out
Before this performance
I take a bow
You, you, could've had it all
Now you are playing just a fallen star

And you're wondering, how I..m wandering
Through the maze between the heartaches

Crashing and burning
As time past away
Trashing and turning
You know that I feel
The chances are low but the curtain is down
Now it's turning down

Stop the masquerade
There's no one left
Just you and me
Just empty seats
There is no stress
The show is real
Don't say your lies
Say what you feel
Or if you can't
I have to leave
The stage behind and say goodbye
I say goodbye

The show is over
The show is over
The show is over and over and over
The show is over and over and over 7x
The show is over and over and over 7x

The show is over
This time stops for real
Trashing and turning
You know that I feel
The show is over
The show is over, over

The show s over
