

Cinemon, Supercharged

Structures I raise
Scriptures I write
With my shaking hands

Ventures taken up
Vultures circle in
Sacred bleeding out

Slave to myself
And no-one else
But my grandeur

I'm supercharged
Threads are running through a fuzz
Before the fuses blow out
With my eyes lit up
Waiting for someone to bless this mess

With bruised hands
Keeping the pace
Breaking rocks all day

Running headless
Fuels the race
Waters down the rage

Played upon
Like a pawn
By the lack of sense

I'm supercharged
Threads are running through a fuzz
Before fuses blow out
With my eyes lit up
Waiting for someone to bless this mess

I'm supercharged
On a constant power-up
Screaming on top of my lungs
With eyes lit up
Waiting for someone to bless this mess

(notenoughness pushing further and beyond)

I'm supercharged
Threads are running through a fuzz
Before the fuses blow out
With my eyes lit up
Waiting for someone to bless this mess

I'm supercharged
On a constant power up
Screaming on top of my lungs
Settle down when I die
Waiting for someone to pull the plug out
