Cinerama, Tie Me Up

It's almost unfair that someone should be quite so stunning When they said that you'd called for me I came running Your perfect hands

Those few loose strands of hair that are out of place, falling across your face

Your fingertips, your eyes, your lips The minute I closed the door you caressed me

Then pulled me down to the floor and undressed me

You tied my hands and whispered commands

Then my whole body shook as you began to suck

I cried your name and then I came

You own me, you own me, and I'll do anything

You own me, you own me, and I'm not arguing

Anything that you want to do, I'll do it

I'm completely enslaved by you; I'll do it

Anything that you want to do, I'll do it

I'm completely enslaved by you; I'll do it

You own me, you own me, and I'll do anything

You own me, you own me, and I'm not arguing

You own me, you own me, and I'll do anything

You own me, you own me, and I'm not arguing
