

Cinerama, Your Time Starts Now

I've given everything I have to give but it's not enough
And this might sound a little negative but I'm not that tough

And well, yeah, that's the difference there between us, you're so naïve
When they promise you the world, oh they don't really mean it, it's just make believe

Yeah, I've heard it all before
No, I don't care any

More things to do but no time left to do them, so why persevere?
More goals but no opportunity to pursue them, so why am I here?

Yeah, I've heard it all before
No, I don't care any more

Maybe I need to try again
But I don't know how
You say you've got the answer
Well your time starts now
I need to try again
I don't know how
You say you've got the answer
Your time starts now

No, I don't care any more
