Circa Survive, The Great Golden Baby

Make your move, obvious humor Desperate in respiratory plight Always on, dressed to impress I'll be the last one to find out why

Time takes its toll on us (this changes everything) I'd be a liar if I denied you at all Oh, Now that I know this changes everything

I've been trading ideas with intriguing men and I I perceive an honest solution to all of your crime

Time takes its toll on us (this changes everything) I'd be a liar if I denied you at all Oh, Now that I know this changes everything

Oh, now that I know Oh, now that i know

And the amplifier screams out loud For the last time Wave your hands at the audience As you sink on in Fast chance to hide You need desperately so I need so

Motion gives up on you in the end I'll try my best to be home by then You'll see the grace we had She'll never have You'll never have

I'm going home by my own way Going home by my own I'm going home by my own way Going home by my own

I would really love if you'd sit him down
I would really love if you'd sit him down
I would really love if you'd pull this thread
I would really love if you'd pull this thread
I would really love if you'd sit him down
I would really love if you'd sit him down
I would really love if you'd pull this thread
I would really love if you'd pull this thread