

Circa Survive, Wish Resign

I'll turn and teach the ages nothing you love lasts too long a motherless cub abandoned in the stages of birth mother lost the mid wife who'll tell the children about her life that's why you never mention my name to them denying us all of the moment

that's why you never mention my name to them

what brought you back to this place
I knew you'd never learn I knew you'd never anything expected of you now

I knew you'd never learn
I knew you'd never

I'll place my bag down now you'll be the first one to sell me out

that's why you never mention my name to them

I knew you'd never learn

I knew you'd never learn
it's obvious
