

Citizen Cope, Hurricane Waters

I will carry you through the hurricane waters
And I'll remember you in the blue skies
See I will carry you in the hurricane waters
And I'll remember you in the blue skies

Something happens when
You're caught searching for an answer
When you're stuck in the middle
Of a place that you don't belong yeah
When you start to lose sight of what's right and wrong yeah
'Cause when we started it was innocent
'Cause when we started it was innocent

I will carry you through the hurricane waters
And I'll remember you in the blue skies
See I will carry you in the hurricane waters
And I'll remember you in the blue skies

Until we meet again
Until it's like it was
Until then
Until the answers start raining down
Until the skies open up until the trumpet sounds
Until then
Until the city and the country ain't divided
Until then
Until the spirit and the mind ain't fighting
Until the scenes of tomorrow and today finally play

I will carry you through the hurricane waters
And I'll remember you in the blue skies
See I will carry you in the hurricane waters
And I'll remember you in the blue skies
