

Clan Of Xymox, Senses Coalesce

He was put in a jacket
He was sent home
He was given breakfast
But he couldn't eat home
His senses coalesce
And he cried no, no, no
All day long

He looked at the window
As though it were a wall
He saw things that weren't there
Nothing at all
His senses coalesce
And he cried no, no, no
All day long

He thought himself a bird
This time flying high
He thought himself a man
An ordinary man
His senses coalesce
And he cried no, no, no
All day long