

Clan Of Xymox, Under The Wire

So tired, so cold
As stone I'm told
So blind, my fault
To love and to hold
Enough, I'm mauled
Enough, I'm told
Under the wire, exposed
Under fire, reproached
Under the wire I froze
I'm under fire, I fold

Into the morning light
On the the edge of time
Here you stand
With all your demands
Question, my love
With tears in your eyes
Too much estranged
Too far apart
The demons in you come into light
Coming into light
Coming into light
Coming into light
Coming into light
Coming into light

I've lost my scope
You touched my soul
Under the wire, exposed
Under fire, reproached

Waiting up for me
Waiting after all
We could go on
As nothing was ever wrong
One has to see
The reason of demise
One has to see
Our demons in disguise
Time has come
For you to question all
Time has come
For me to end it all
It all
It all
It all

Under the wire I fold
Under fire once more
Under the wire I fold
Under fire once more
