Clannad, Something To Believe In

Everybody's rushing around, Trying to keep a hold On some piece of mind All the time And somebody's lookin' around Tryin' to find Something to believe in To believe in All the things they promised They're always lies Chorus Well it's something Oh it's something to believe in You know it's something Every little once in a while You take a chance to win On a turning card But it may be hard We could be fooled on the merry-go-round But i'm trying to find Something to believe in To believe in All the things they promised You know they always lied Chorus I've been willing and strong all along Through chilling times In a sea of heartbreak Where you give and take I won't give in to promises Until i find something to believe in To believe in Chorus
