

Classic Case, Fun Like War

tension is not enough, it's not enough we should invade and punish them all for acting up let's burn down the bridges and level the topography till it's dust proving they're weak

don't ask, don't tell and join the ranks we're making the world such a better place why'd we try to raise the alarm?

will our false pretenses keep us safe from harm?

don't frame me for thinking on my own
this is out of our control now it won't be long until we conquer everyone how fun replace the leaders and then we'll force on them our industry till our funds exceed our needs

don't frame me for thinking on my own
we are out of our control
