

Claude King, It's Good To Have My Baby

I can wait for the train to come in sight cause my baby's comin' home tonight
I'll be standing in this rain and I'll meet the midnight train
That will bring my baby home tonight
I can hear a whistle down the line Mr Engeneer be on time
It's so cold in this rain but my baby's on your train
It'll be good to have my baby home tonight
[ac.guitar - harmonica]
I can see her stepping out the door I can wait to kiss her lips once more
But who is that man that is holding her hand
And says it's good to have my baby home tonight
Oh yes it's good to have my baby home tonight
I know it's good to have my baby home tonight
