

Claude King, There Ain't Gonna Be No More

Oh there ain't gonna be no more no there ain't gonna be no more
No more tears will I cry over you

I don't need nobody to tell me we're through I can see it shining in your eyes
There's been so many tears that I've lost over you they would make the oceans rise
But there ain't gonna be no more...

[piano]

Well I saw you last night at the place we used to go
But the one in your arms wasn't me
I just stood there a trembling afraid to stay or go
And the tears started coming down on me
But there ain't gonna be no more...

[harmonica]

I don't need nobody to tell me...
