

Clay Aiken, Coming back from me

Not too crazy about love songs
Never been into that kinda stuff... no
This ones got me conflicted
Feel like Im addicted
This sadness self inflicted
I just cant get enough
Now its taking on a whole new meaning
This time the story cuts a little too close to home
'Cause this song is all about us
How could they know about us
What happened was just between us
Now the whole world knows
'Cause its all over the radio
Cuts me deep with every word
Saddest song Ive ever heard
I cant help myself
I keep coming back for more
Drowning in the melody
Makes me feel like I cant breathe
I cant save myself
The only time Im close to you is when
I hear a song Im addicted to
So I keep coming back for more
Somebodys makin a fortune
Selling emotions to fools like me... who
Relate to what their sayin
Obsessed and cant stop playing
No use in changing stations... no
Cause its everywhere on the radio, the radio, the radio
Cuts me deep with every word
Saddest song Ive ever heard
I cant help myself
I keep coming back for more
Drowning in the melody
Makes me feel like I cant breathe
I cant save myself
The only time Im close to you is when
I hear a song Im addicted to
So I keep coming back for more
I keep coming back for more
Hits me harder every time
Just notes and chords and words that rhyme
Im not too crazy bout love songs
This type of story cuts a little too close to home
Cause its all over the radio, the radio, the radio
Cuts me deep with every word
Saddest song Ive ever heard
Try and shut it out
It keeps coming back for more
Drowning in the melody
Makes me feel like I cant breathe
I cant save myself
The only time Im close to you is when
I hear a song Im addicted to
So I keep coming back for more
