

Clay Crosse, Consider The Choices

This time she'd drawn a line that he was never meant to cross,
But he convinced her to lay down her love at any cost
After all, for all she knew, he would promise tomorrow.
A crucial turning point, and time is placed in history.
Now why she can't forget it seems to be a mystery.
Well you know how the story goes, and the heartache that follows.

CHORUS:

You need to know there is road for you
And not just for tomorrow, but your whole life through
You need to know with every step you take,
Consider the choices that you make.

He took the money to a place no one eye could see
So sure they'd never find the records that would charge him as the guilty one
For all he'd done, for all he'd done.

CHORUS 2X

You need to know there is a road for you,
And not just for tomorrow, but your whole life through.
You need to know with every step you take,
Consider the choices that you make.
