Clay Walker, Heartache Highway

The sun's reflecting off the city limit sign I better keep moving before I change my mind Lookin' in the rearview mirror Comin' home didn't make it clearer I didn't wanna hear her say goodbye Heartache Highway why didn't I say What she wanted to hear Why must the most important words go unspoken Heartache Highway now it's too late To ever change her mind Oh it's a hell of a road When you're leavin' heaven behind Memories of her dance in my headlights As I'm ridin' my pain into the night Headin' for the next horizon Watchin' the full moon risin' Gotta keep on drivin' goin' nowhere..on this Heartache Highway why didn't I say What she wanted to hear Why must the most important words go unspoken Heartache Highway now it's too late To ever change her mind Oh it's a hell of a road When you're leavin' heaven behind Oh it's a hell of a road When you're leavin' heaven behind
