

Clay Walker, This Time Love

(Pat Bunch/Randy Boudreaux)

Oh love you know I'm so afraid to fall

'Cause remember the last time

You backed me against the wall

Oh like a fool I trusted you

I was a little too naive

But this time love

You're asking way too much of me

This time love

It would be too much to take

'Cause once I fall for her

There'll be no way to escape

She'll be the one to take my heart

And never set it free

This time love

You're asking way too much of me

Oh love I don't know how long I can wait

And any minute now just might be too late

So stop me now if it can't work out

'Cause I already see

Oh this time love

You're asking way too much of me

Oh this time love

It would be too much to take

'Cause once I fall for her

She'll be the one to take my heart

And never set it free

Oh this time love

You're asking way too much of me

Oh I said this time, this time love

You're asking way too much of me
