Clear Convictions, Crisis Within

running and running, hiding from myself looking for some answers in a world of nonsense sometimes up, others down yearning for freedom for my heavily bounded mind scared of my feelings a cry inside myself can someone help me, to see my way come to me, jesus says I'll make you rest 'cause I am the truth, the life, the way