

Cliff Richard, Better Day

I've sailed an ocean
I've sailed an ocean before you
Thought I was free
Thought that I was free before I met you

Now I'm no longer the same
I've found the dream that
I have been waiting for
I'm always calling your name
Feeling joy that I never knew before
Let's celebrate this better day

I've climbed a mountain
I've climbed a mountain before you
Thought I was wise
Thought I was wise before I met you

Now everything is so clear
I want to be beside you,
Won't ever leave you
And I am so lost in love
That every day I'm waiting for you

I just want to here with you
Just want to be with you
Just want to be where you are,
It's all I need
And we'll celebrate this better day

This destiny
Has been designed for me by someone
This mystery
Has all the signs to make me hold on

There'll come a day I know now
A better day when we will belong together
It's just a touch away now
Just a kiss and we will be there

I just want to here with you
Just want to be with you
Just want to be where you are,
It's all I need
And we'll celebrate this better day

It's just a touch away now
Just a kiss and we will be there

I just want to here with you
Just want to be with you
Just want to be where you are,
It's all I need
And we'll celebrate this better day

This better day
This better day
