

Cliff Richard, Count Me Out

What kind of love is this that leaves me feeling cold
You look right through me what see nobody knows
You're in a world all by yourself - needing no one else
Feeling so secure

You're on the road to nowhere, left your past behind
What's to become of me, should feelings be denied
Another time another place, would I be the same old face
For you to have around

There's no way in, there's no way out I'm caught in the middle
Why must you leave my heart in doubt
We have a one way love that flows from me to you
There's nothing more for me to lose

We're through with talking now we know that it's the end
We've played our foolish games and it's useless to pretend
It seems like only yesterday, that love had come to stay
How could we be so blind

There's no way in, there's no way out I'm caught in the middle
Why must you leave my heart in doubt
We have a one way love that flows from me to you
There's nothing more for me to lose

I don't know where your heart is or what's inside your head
If this is love you said it, if this is love forget it
If this is love then count me out
