

Cliff Richard, Here

Seems to me that you're always nere
Close enough so I know when you're here
Just when I think I got to know you-you disappear
And so I walk along building all my dreams
I've every hope as I plan all my schemes
And just when I think I've found the right one you disappear

But still I'm (here) here waiting for you
I'm (here) here still holding on
I'm (here) here waiting for you baby
(here) but it won't be too long
'cos I'm planning a song that will tell you
Oh why I'm here

I've even wished on a falling star
I've carried moonbeams home in a jar
Only one thing wrong
You're where you belong
And that's too far
If only there was some way of reaching you
Holding you 'cos I'm so doggone blue

Only one thing I really want to do
Is sing to you
That's why I'm (here) here waiting for you
I'm (here) here still holding on
I'm (here) here waiting-baby i'm
(here) but it won't be too long
'cos I'm planning a song that will tell you
Oh why I'm (here) here I'm waiting for you baby (here) here and I'm still holding on
I'm planning a song that will tell you
Oh why I'm here

(oh wanna tell you now)
-oh wanna tell you, tell you tell you oh
-gotta tell you tell you it's true that I'm blue doggone it
-ah I'm here and I'm blue
-gotta tell you now gotta tell you now
That I'm here and it's true and I'm blue oh oh
-gotta tell you now gotta keep on telling you I'm blue
-keep on keep on keep on telling you I'm here and I'm blue
