

Clifford T. Ward, Here's Till Then

You can stay away forever and a day
But I'll keep on loving you till then
You can change your mind
And come home to find
That I'm here to care for you again
So here's till then.

You can say "too bad"
You can even be glad
But you can't say you never cared
You can close your mind
You can be so unkind
But you can't spoil what we once shared
You can't spoil the love that we once shared.

You can stay away forever and a day
But I'll keep on loving you till then
You can change your mind
You can come home to find
That I'm here to care for you again
I'll be here to care for you again