

CLOCK MACHINE, Unsent Letter

Carry the world in our hands
Crazy life we used to spend
Salty tears I can see on your face
Stop walking through the darkness
Stay with me
The world is crying about you
About the things we used to do
The world is crying about you
I can remember when it all began
Beautiful things back then we have done
Time flies and you call it life
Why we couldn't stop it just for a while

Where's the life we lived before
Why did you have to go
And a place where we belong
It seems to be gone now

And now you're gone
Left me alone
You made a space for someone else
I'm sorry for the things I did not explain
But i didn't dare to tell you this
If i had a little more time
I would change myself

The world is crying about you
About the things we used to do
Now I know how selfish I was to you

Where's the life we lived before
Why did you have to go
And the place where we belong
It seems to be gone now
Where's the life we lived before
Knocking the doors for more
But the place we belong
It seems to be gone now

Want you to take a look
How wonderful life could be
Why did you have to go
And leave me here
Want you to take a look
How beautiful it could be
With you here

And now I appreciate
Every moment we spent together
Every time when I think of you now
You give me a reason to be better
Thanks to you for everything you did to me
I hope you'll find your own heaven
With someone else beside you
Someone who will treat you better
