

Close To Home, There's Nothing Worse...

This night is alive with a hint of a smile,
And a long stare from your eyes,
I'm feeling weak at the knees,
It's getting harder to breathe,
I've waited all night just to say

I have been waiting for the right time to say,
But the right time never comes,
Tell me why am I wasting every breath that I take,
On something that will never come my way

This lonely road that were sitting upon is getting longer by the day,
I cannot take anymore, I'm slowly losing control,
I've waited all night just to say

[Chorus]

You did me wrong
You did me wrong

You take your time,
I've waited all night just to say
