

Closet Monster, Punk Rock Ruined Our Lives

Another f**king town and another f**king day.
I just can't believe that this place still looks the same.
We got our whole damn world nailed through our hand.

Each other in a rusted van.
Home is where we play.
Remember when all we dreamed was to be living this.
Remember when we wanted to change their world with our own fists.

And now we're here living it.
Our world is what we play.
We live what we create.
Alright this is it.
This is our time right now.
Remember together.
We know that this won't last forever.
I always thought my life would never change again.
But now I know.
I gave up wondering way too long ago.