

Clouds, Bonjour Tristesse

You have loved before
And will love again
But tonight here and now
You are mine my friend

Play host to my dreams
Cradle me
In a warm sleep
Welcome me inside

Your house of many rooms
Each with its own ghost
Those doors so long closed
Will open at
My touch

Welcome me inside
Cradle me
In a warm sleep
Play host to my dreams

Come over me
Overcome me
Do unto me
Undo me

Saints and sinners both of us

Now these walls I've built
These faces I wear
And these names
Are for
Only one night
Take flight

'Til I stand naked before you

Bonjour tristesse
My own sweetheart
Give up the fight
Embrace the night
