

Clouds, Close My Eyes

Just had to taste it, thought to find it sour
But it was nectar that went singing through veins
Leaving a flame and the need to have it again
Now aching with it, swollen with it, bursting with it
I don't want to fight, I don't want to be free
I just want to have the sun burst over me

I'm waiting for you to get inside me and do what you do
Come to me, I'll give you the knife to cut my apathy
Bring my senses to life
Now paradise seized, tension released, desire appeased
I don't want to fight, I don't want to be free
I just want to have the sun burst over me

Turn to you to lose myself
I never saw this before
Now I close my eyes
