

Clouds, So Far Away

I just had to look away
Every time you catch my eye
I don't have anything to say to you
If I snuck up from behind
Put my hands over your eyes
Would you let me have my way?

So close, yet, so far away

I've been looking for a good excuse to lose my mind
To have a reason for a temporary loss of my good sense
I feel the tension when I have to be near you,
How do I pretend you mean nothing to me?
(Nothing to me, nothing to me)

Underneath those shades of black
Is a blue I've only seen once in my dreams.

So close, yet, so far away
So far away, so far away, so far away
