

Clouds, Sweetest Thing

You came out with some surprising statements, were they true?
You came out with things I hadn't thought I'd hear from you
Well, I had another drink and I had another think
And I still think you're the sweetest thing.

Told me how I looked to you, I wouldn't call it real
Told me that you shouldn't talk about the way you feel
But I had another drink, and I had another think
And I still think you're the sweetest thing

And I'm not worried about what they will say
Well I don't care if they were looking anyway
So calm down, nobody noticed
And hey, it's not as if we hey, you know we didn't hey,
We never even kissed

If you feel inclined to get us both into a mess
Change your mind and keep your distance, I won't like you less
I had another drink, and I had another think
And I still think you're the sweetest thing
