

Clouds, The Most

I have loved you for so long, from so far, now we're getting close
You're the only one I want; of them all, I love you the most.

And you know that's how it is,
But you pretend that you don't,
So you never have to turn me down.

I know if I held you it will feel like coming home,
I imagine that I tell you; till I do, my heart's alone.

And you know that's how it is,
But you pretend that you don't,
So you never have to turn me down.

And you know that's how it is,
But you pretend that you don't,
So you never have to turn me, never have to turn me down.
