

Clutch, Pure Rock Fury

I walk wherever the weather provides cause everybody needs some time outside gimme no lip and I'll tell you no lie hands down the illest ventriloquist this side of the mississippi river high that's right operator smoother than faders on an automated sound board Andretti's never raced me but if he wants to, oh I'm ready, ready coordination of the eye and hand--it's not my strong point but i make due with what I have pure rock fury the solution is so clear calling all humans and able volunteers

I walk wherever the weather provides cause everybody needs some time outside I seen them boxes in peliculas; one time stands out in particular I seen you dance in the arena all in make-up dressed up like a ballerina I got to wonder what's got into you or just what you got into

pure rock fury the solution is so clear

hotter than abba in nevada sun in a real small car with the windows rolled up no super trooper cause you pooped your pants and you're screaming o please just give me one more chance not one to shrink from helping humankind brother but one other thing that you might keep in mind coordination of the eye and hand--it's not my strong point
