

Cochise, WAR SONG

In the face of darkness age
In the face of yesterday
Thousand nation on the knees
Waiting for another day

One hope one blood
One man standing on the shore
One flash one bone
One man standing on the shore

I believe in the oceans waves
I believe in the mountain breah
I believe in the holy things that begin this revolution

See the sunrise one my skin
Throught the broken wings of fear
Thousand nation crush themselves
Waiting for another day

One hope one blood
One man standing on the shore
One flash one bone
One man standing on the shore

I believe in the oceans waves
I believe in the mountain breah
I believe in the holy things that begin this
revolution

When the day burns down to night
Burn the edge of my black soul
There is one man on the shore
Sinning song of dying world

I believe in the oceans waves
I believe in the mountain breah
I believe in the holy things that begin this
revolution