

Cock Robin, Stumble And Fall

My conscience is troubled, my spirit is blessed
I'm off in the wrong direction every chance I get My love is demanding like getting my wish
My only obsession could drive me to this
I really love you cause I really need you in spite of this world
In spite of it all my heart won't hate
Stumble and fall
And sometimes you break

My love is eternal, my temper is quick
Some days are a nightmare, I just cross off my list
My aim is steady, my sights have been set
I look for perfection inside of this wreck
Everyone's happy, beautiful and happy, i've seen for myself
I've seen it all, all I can take
Stumble and fall
And sometimes you break

You're my one only wish
I'll make the pieces fit, baby

My back's to the wall, no one's safe
Stumble and fall
And sometimes you break
Sometimes you break
Sometimes you break

Sometimes you break
