

Codeseven, Pathetic Justice

gold ring
my heart string
I have nothing but a gold ring

I took a pastel picture my head was in a jar and I know just where she keeps it to keep her friends this close there's a crack in the crystal glass and I know that this will all pass

She took it apart with a piece of the picture now I can't get back to that place and I know that when she sees it she keeps her friends this close
there's a crack in the crystal glass and it holds the memories of our past

gold ring
my heart string
I am nothing but an old dream