

Coheed And Cambria, The Velorium Camper II: Backend Of Forever

Rocked silent in a soft lullaby panic stirred me awakened by a ringing phone in time where and when would I see her?
Crazy were the words that scribbled out your mouth
I stuttered replacing your face to those words where and when would I kill her?
I'll wish on this, I'll wish with this
I, I'll wish... to the bitter end of my day
Well, where were you?

[Chorus:]

So you had your turn and you made it work now I'm the laughing stock of your joke as crazy as it may seem I cried for you when you told me to date all of the things that made you end up in my life and I'll believe anything I have no luck with girls I overheard that you were unhappy too misleading toss into a relationship that makes no sense over and out Connecticut
but you had your back turned there as you faded away to the end of my day I found out you weren't worth what I thought of you what I thought of you write this down in your diary you abuse can we make plans can I just get through to you is this weird...do I scare her?

I'll wish on this, I'll wish with this
I, I'll wish... that you could share the love you'd shared with others, with me

[Chorus]

This isn't love so forever let it go...forever let it burn
This isn't love there on the backend of forever
I wish I would never hurt again [w/ ad libs]
