

Colbie Caillat, Old And New

Sitting up on that wall
Are stories that say it all
Pictures of my three dogs
And a ten year love now gone
Candles burnin'
Rumours record on
Mom and Dad always
Sing along

Livin' by a quote that goes
She designed a life she loved
Lookin' back, I will know
It's somethin' that I'm sure of

From California
Where the sun shines through
Now in Tennessee and Missin' you

Times, they'll be changing
With the seasons, as they do
Life is always what you make it
It's okay to miss the past
While wanting something new
Looking on or looking back
Love the old and new

Now I'm just thirty-five
And I'm still shy
Alone for the very first time
And I'll be just fine
Enjoying the ride

Love where I'm going
And where I've been
Learn from my sister and
My three best friends

Times, they'll be changing
With the seasons, as they do
Life is always what you make it
It's okay to miss the past
While wanting something new
Looking on, or looking back
Love the old and new

Dreams may end up fading
Maybe some of them come true
Life will lead you if you let it
Letting go of what you planned
With space for something new

Times, they'll be changing
With the seasons, as they do
Life is always what you make it
It's okay to miss the past
While wanting something new
Looking on or looking back
Love the old and new

Love the old and new
Love the old and new