

Colbie Caillat, Still Gonna Miss You

I never liked the way you dressed
And drinkin' you were such a mess
You would always change your mind
And wonder why it had me losin' mine

But loving you was easy
Like a Sunday morning breeze, yea
Then we started fighting
Slowly distance turned to silence
Are you looking back like I am?

I'm still, gonna still, gonna still
Miss the way you held me all night
I'm still, gonna still, gonna still
Wonder what we coulda done right

I'm still gonna miss you
It's nothing I won't get through
But I'm still gonna miss you
'Cause you're what my heart's used to

I'm still gonna miss you

It started as a love affair
The world was ending, didn't care
'Cause we were on our own time
Was like the summer of '69

It's hard to think that someday
You'll be a stranger in a different place
Thought it was forever
Wish we would've stayed together
Honey, nothin' lasts forever

I'm still gonna miss you
It's nothing I won't get through
But I'm still gonna miss you
'Cause you're what my heart's used to

I'm still gonna miss you
Still, gonna still, gonna still
Miss you

Someday I'll know
That the reason for this heartbreak's beautiful
And I'll let it go

I'm still, gonna still, gonna still
Miss the way you held me all night
I'm still, gonna still, gonna still
Wish we had a little more time

I'm still gonna miss you
It's nothing I won't get through
But I'm still gonna miss you
'Cause you're what my heart's used to

Yea, I know that good things end
Just can't get it through my head
That I'm gonna love again
And I'm not ready to yet

I'm still gonna miss you
Still, gonna still, gonna still

Miss you
I'm still gonna miss you
Miss you
