

Cold, A Different Kind Of Pain

Before i let you go
Give me just one more night to show you
Just how i feel
I lost all my control
If it takes my whole damned life i'll
Make this up to you

Im kinda like the waves that roll their whole life
Towards somewhere crashing it on the shore
Thats blown in by the wind that carries the clouds
To hide my wish on a fallen star

A differnt kind of pain, is someone there to hold you
Is someone there to take you away from me

I tried to let you go
I wish i could turn back time and show
You just how i feel
I needed you to know
If it takes my whole damned life i'll
Make this up to you

Before you let me go, i needed you to know
