

Cold, It's All Good

Take another motherfucking hit of LSD
Let all the love inside the world belong to you
Well, I can't understand just why you went away
Too young to feel the pain & bitterness of love
Well, I can never understand a motherfucking
Word you'd ever say
And all the people that you hurt
Came down on you
And I can't understand just why you went away
I sat and waited for the day you'd come back home

But it was all good

Take a loaded gun and blow my fantasy away
Turn off the light and shine the spotlight
Down on you
Well, I could never understand a motherfucking word
You'd ever say
And all the people you hurt came down on you
Well I can't understand just why you went away
I sat and waited for the day you came back home