

Cold, Ocean

If the wind could bring the rain
I would save it all for you
Make an ocean to sail away and begin again
They said i could never change
That i cant belong to you
Than i watched you slip away in the oceans arms

I'll never get you back.
Its like fallin down a wave,
Fallin down a wave

If a star could light the way
That could take me back to you
And the rain could wash away
Everything ive done
Only melody remains
So i sing my song to you
As i watched you slip away in the oceans arms

I will never get you back
