

Coldplay, No More Keeping My Feet On The Gro

Sometimes I wake up and I'm falling asleep
I think that maybe the curtains are closing on me
But I wake up; yes I wake up smiling
Sometimes I feel the chance is surprising
Surprisingly good to be moving around
So I wake up; yes I wake up smiling
So what? I feel fine
I'm ok; I've seen the lighter side of life
I'm alright, I feel good
So I'll go and I'll try to start moving
Sometimes I wake up and I'm falling asleep
But I've gotta get going
So much that I'm wanting to do
But I wake up smiling
And this could be my last chance
Of saving my human sense
And this could be my last chance
No more keeping my feet on the ground
Sometimes I feel the chance is surprising
Surprisingly good to be moving around
And I move; I wake up smiling
So what? I feel fine
I feel okay; I've seen the lighter side of life
I'm alright, I feel good
So I'll go, well it's time to start moving on
And this could be my last chance
Of saving my human sense
And this could be my last chance
So no more keeping my feet on the ground
I'm not gonna keep on; I'm not gonna keep on moving
And I'm not gonna keep on; I'm not gonna keep on moving
