

Collide, Falling Up

Spiral revelation morphias of change what a sensation growing in form imagination opens the door in between spaces oh dear she explodes

fa la la la falling down falling up falling down and if these four walls tumble down I'll see you

scary incantations in the wrong hands feel the vibrations now i see all no invitation in this playground into temptation now I'm so small

I'll see you

my imagination turning around what a sensation i want more more information opens the door no expectations now i explore falling up falling down falling up falling down
