Collin Raye, When You Say Your Prayers

(Jason Blume/Karen Taylor-Good)

If you've ever wondered When you pray at night If it makes a difference If it sets things right Everytime we say our prayers Whispered in the dark Somewhere deep inside you You know with all your heart As sure as God's in Heaven There's someone who cares And somebody's listening When you say your prayers A prayer can be a thank-you A prayer can be a wish A prayer can say I'm sorry Like a hug or a kiss It doesn't have to be just right God hears you loud and clear As long as it comes from your heart It goes right to his ear As sure as God's in Heaven There's someone who cares And somebody's listening When you say your prayers As sure as God's in Heaven There's someone who cares And somebody's listening When you say your prayers Just know somebody's listening When you say your prayers
