

Coltrane Motion, Matt's In Love

matt's in love
with a cinnamon girl
makes him feel like he's floating in a sea of eggshells
matt's in love
with a heavy metal girl wearing platform boots in taco bell

we park the car
in a field of gravel
the girl across from me is reading
'a clockwork orange'
we see some scots
play with feedback
everyone claps, files out and drives back home

draw me an earthquake, swallow up this town draw me an ocean so that i may drown my heart is young but i've been wrong before
oh, anyway
